About Ten Forward

Ten Forward is a network for early career educators in schools, kura, and beyond, who are shaping what learning looks like. We exist because frontline insight matters, especially in times of change. If you're in your first decade of teaching, you've lived through upheaval and reform. You know what's working and what isn't. Ten Forward puts futures thinking and solutions-focused education at the centre of your professional life - and makes sure your voice stays there.
